

Dear Partners,

It has been a pleasure to welcome you in Palermo and we hope you had a wonderful time during the training days, accompanied by the delicious food, good weather, and gorgeous landscapes of our city.

Sharing was the protagonist of the event and the exchange of opinions, good practice, and new opportunities, accompanied by cheerful moments of conviviality were very meaningful. Projects like these connect people and make them able to appreciate differences as well as understand their importance and how cultural difference is just a wonderful added value.

These are the goals of the Erasmus+ program, the main one is the renewal of the union among E.U. countries and we believe that during these days the goal has been achieved.

We are going through one of the darkest periods in the history of the European Union and each of us has the duty to promote and work to fight the negative values of war, which creates division and generates only suffering as well as any attempt to break up this important unique great nation that is Europe.

Therefore, good job everybody! We will see you again at the next meeting and we wish you well for the next projects!
